Minutes of
June 24th, 2020
General Meeting

Meeting held using the Zoom video-conference platform

1. Announcements
   - The Calendar is at the end of the minutes
   - June is National Indigenous History Month, meant to celebrate the diverse, rich, and distinct languages and cultures of Canada’s first peoples.
   - June is also Pride month where we celebrate the diversity of the LGBTQ2S+ Community. Pride was first begun in 1939, as a protest in the United States against police brutality and racism against the QTBIPOC community.
   - June 2nd was the 5th anniversary of the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada. Grounded in the courage and resilience of residential school survivors, the Calls to Action reveal, in the words of Chief Commissioner Celeste Haldane, a “pathway to shared responsibility of critical change in Canada” towards a better future for all Canadians. June 2, 2015 was the “end of the beginning” to paraphrase the TRC’s closing theme at the time. Reconciliation is an ongoing responsibility of every individual if we are to overcome the evils of racism and the cultural genocide inflicted by Canadians on Aboriginal people.
   - June 21st was National Indigenous Peoples’ Day, an official day of celebration to recognize and honour the heritage, cultural diversity and valuable contributions to society by the First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples.

13. President’s Report – KM

- Kirk welcomed everyone and presented his report:
- Your executive has been working on a Survey on remote working for members to give us some insight into how the university dealt with the partial closure in mid-March due to the COVID-19 pandemic. So please watch your email for it in the next week.
- We have had lots of good feedback on the Zoom general meetings and will continue to adapt as we move together as a local.
- As most of you will know the CUPE locals and PEA on campus have been working with the Employer on a Workforce Adjustments letter of agreement (LOA). At the heart of this is how best to support our members so they are able to maintain Benefits, Pension, and seniority during a temporary layoff.
- This meant creating a process outside of the Collective agreement – an LOA
- With limited time restricting our ability to meet with as many members as possible, the executive with the advice of our National Staff Rep., Micha Pesta, made the decision to send out the information in the same manner as we did for the ratification of the collective agreement.
- When the University partially closed, they followed our Article 20 language and maintained regular CUPE staff’s wages and benefits. However, as we watched casual employment severely reduced and temporary appointments being ended early to provide work for regular employees, we knew that the employer’s ability to maintain wage continuity was not sustainable,

- I know that many temporary and casual members are feeling left behind as the University discontinues their positions. Thanks to our collective agreement they did receive 4 weeks’ notice before their positions ended.

- On June 5, Our Solidarity meeting with the Faculty Association, PEA, CUPE, and United Steel workers expanded to include Royal Roads University and Camosun College. I was asked to chair this meeting that included BCGEU and many other Union Reps. We heard from those other institutions on the issues around COVID-19. By the end of the meeting there was agreement to expand to include Vancouver Island University and North Island College. The next meeting will take place on the morning of June 25 so keep an eye on your email for any news that comes out of that meeting

- On June 13th the CUPE Vancouver Island District Council had its general meeting via Zoom

- 5 of our delegates were present.

- I was re-elected Members at Large for Duncan South, and I am happy to serve the council in this capacity.

- This past weekend I was able to use some vacation to help represent Labour in Cumberland at a modified Miners’ Memorial ceremony which recognized Ginger Goodwin a Union activist who was shot and killed by RCMP in 1918.

- This marks over 30 years of Unions going to visit Ginger’s grave in Cumberland and the forgotten graves of Chinese and Japanese Miners

- I met with the CUPE BC University’s committee on Monday, June 22nd and we heard updates from UBC, SFU, UNBC, TRU, and RRU.

- Our CUPE Communications rep Steven Beasley talked about an idea for a cost share to bring Post-Secondary issues to light when we seem to be left behind at times like now. This could be very useful in how the public portrays us.

- For any questions about this report, please contact Kirk Mercer at: presidentcupe951@uvic.ca

Motion: That the President’s report be approved – MSCarried

- Many Temporary Employees are having their Term Appointments ended early. While we have always tried to make improvements to the Collective Agreement for Temporary Employees such as four-weeks-notice for such endings, this crisis has highlighted how vulnerable they are. The abuse of this category by the employer has been made worse by the current situation. And let us be clear, while the University is within their legal rights to do this, it is their conscious decision to abandon these members at this time and we should not forget this.

- I have attended the first meetings around layoffs under the Letter of Agreement (LOA) in Residence Services. The number of students who will be in residence in September is still very much up in the air but there is hope that layoffs will be few among our members in that unit.
- I do need to clarify for everyone: you end up with the same benefits whether you volunteer for layoff or not. There is no bonus for volunteering other than protecting you or your loved ones from increased risk of exposure.
- A concern has come forward re: public access to buildings, specifically a public event is apparently being planned for the Fraser Building. All building openings are subject to the restrictions imposed by the Provincial Health Officer. As well a memo has gone out to unit heads and supervisors from UVic Occupational Health and Safety (OHSE) which says, “Before resuming any activity on-campus, each unit must have an approved safety plan in place, ensuring compliance with WorkSafe BC requirements.”
- If you have concerns about these plans or you don’t see one before being asked to come back into your building, please contact me (Ted Godwin) at: chiefstewardcupe951@uvic.ca.

Motion: That the Chief Steward’s report be approved – MSCarried
