

APRIL 12, 2017 | 7:00 PM

DAVID LAM AUDITORIUM

DEFENDING HUMAN RIGHTS & PREVENTING HARASSMENT: VICTIM, BYSTANDER AND ACTIVIST

BARBARA WHITTINGTON

"Whether in the RCMP, the Armed Forces, in churches, schools, sports teams, our streets, workplaces and in all our various communities, human rights abuses and harassment happen around us and for many of us, these violations happen to us. Starting from my professional and personal experiences we'll discuss some of the complexities of defining, understanding and responding. Responses are many: from organizational policies through to community action. Often we look the other way, or we literally don't see what is happening or we don't read that item in the news. Be brave, look, listen and learn. Together we can begin to have an informative, respectful learning exchange."

PLEASE REGISTER FOR THIS FREE LECTURE BY EMAILING aging@uvic.ca
OR CALLING 250-721-6369.

The series is co-hosted by the UVic Retirees Association and the Institute on Aging and Lifelong Health, with the support of the University of Victoria. There is a free lecture every Wednesday evening from April 5 – 26, 2017. For more information, please visit www.uvic.ca/masterminds.

University of Victoria

Retirees Association

Institute on Aging
& Lifelong Health